

Education Centre of Occupational Health (ECOH) Venue Hire

About the FOM and ECOH

The Faculty of Occupational Medicine is a charity committed to improving health at work. We are the professional and educational body for occupational medicine in the UK and seek to ensure the highest standards in the practice of occupational medicine.

The FOM moved to Greenwich in 2017 to grow our popular events by bringing them in-house. With this, the Educational Centre of Occupational Health was created. The space is used regularly by our members for Board and Committee meetings, conferences and exams.

Conference & Meeting Space

Offering a light and airy environment, complemented by the latest audiovisual technology and breakout spaces for group work and refreshments, the ECOH is a diverse and effortless events space.

Key Facilities

- Spaces for groups of 4 to 80 attendees
- Flexible room layouts – lecture, cabaret, classroom, exam and board styles available
- Meeting room fully equipped with video conferencing facilities
- Integrated AV as standard – projector, laptop, lectern and roving mics, pointer and WiFi
- Large breakout space for group work and refreshments plus cloakroom
- No additional costs or complex pricing structures – all facilities are included in every booking
- Accessible venue

Catering

Whether you wish to simply serve teas and coffees or a more extensive lunch option, we are able to arrange external catering for you.

We use local, award-winning catering company, Feast. For menu options, please visit their website
